Номинация: «English in your life»

When I was a baby
my granny sang me
English songs.

*"Tis spring time, tis spring time
Cold winter is past,
Warm breezes are blowing
And May's here at last..."*

Later I got up and did my morning
exercises, singing:

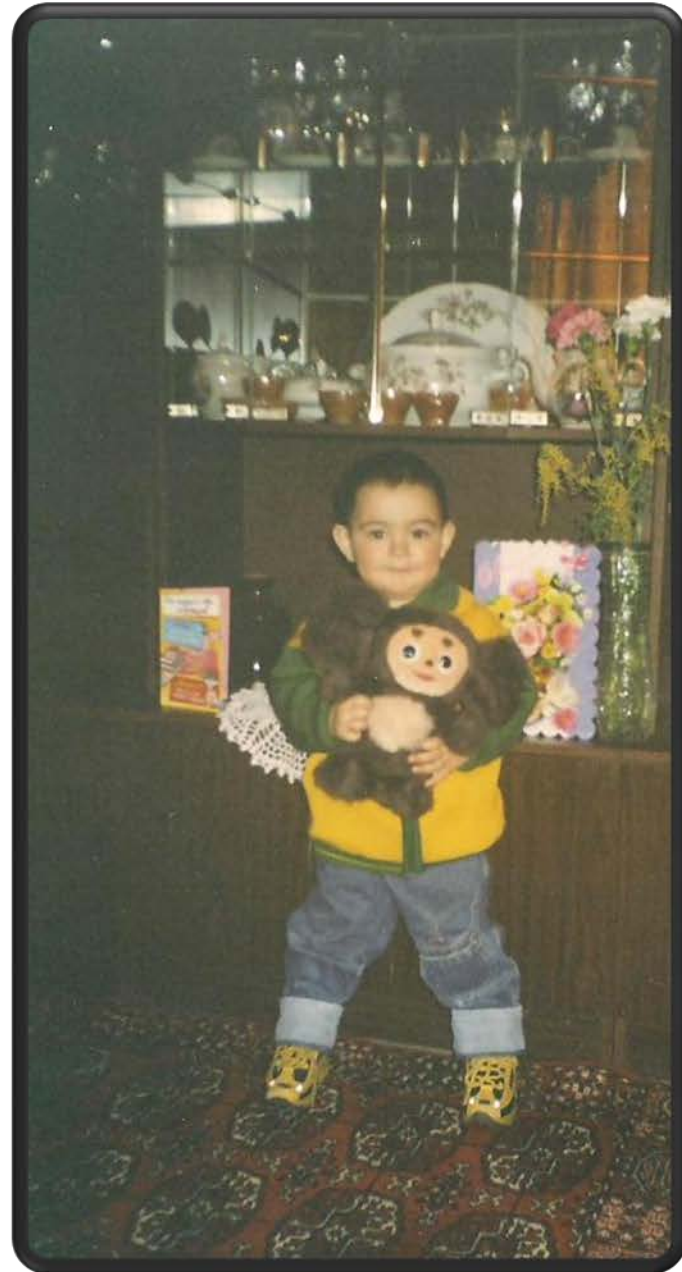

*"Hands up, hands down, hands
on hips, sit down..."*

*When I was 3 years old
I knew a lot of English
poems: "Teddy Bear",
"Little grey mouse".
They were little
poems about dogs,
kittens and other animals.*

I could count from 1 to 100, sing English songs and listen to Russian tails in English. For example:

*"Some were sitting on the bench,
Some were looking down the street,
Tolya whistled, Boris sang,
Nick just sat and swung his feet..."*

When I was 6 years old I already knew English alphabet and could answer some questions. But it was a pity that I didn't speak English. That's why I was taken to English school.

English became my favorite subject. I am 11 now and I can read and write in English . I take part in competitions and school festivals. Best of all I like to sing songs in English.

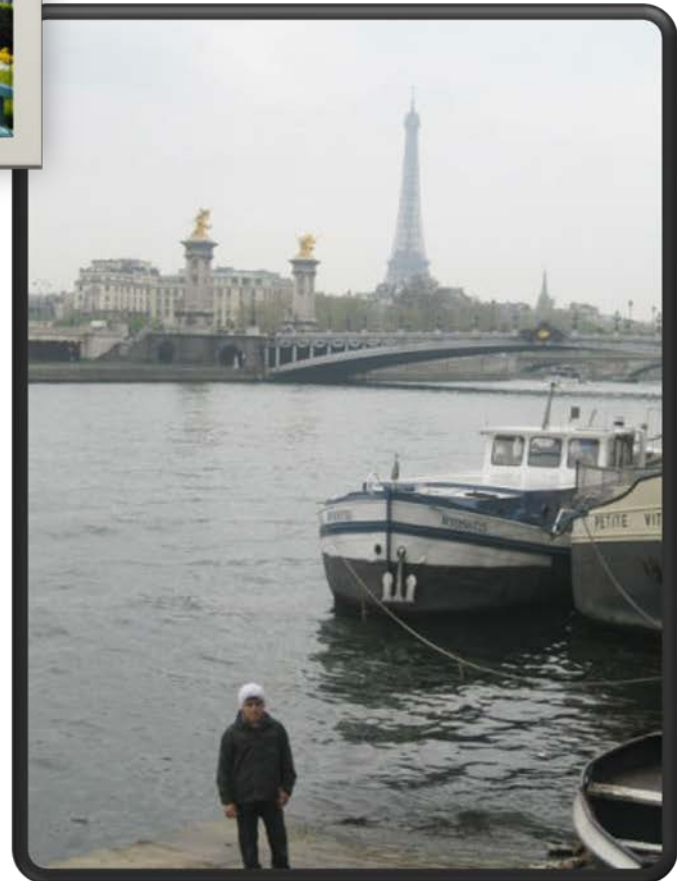

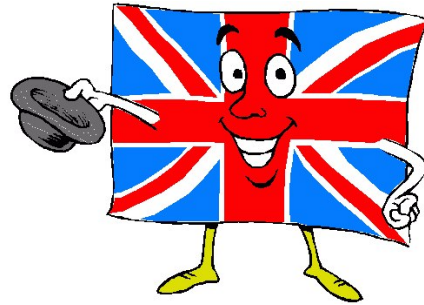

Last year I won the diploma in special competition, where I showed my Russian translation of English poems for children.

I usually spend my holidays abroad where I have an opportunity to practice my English. It's great!

Learning English is very necessary for everyone, because it is the most popular language in Europe and in the whole world.
