

The background of the entire image is a vibrant winter scene. It features three bullfinches with bright orange-red chests and black heads and backs, perched on dark, thin branches. The branches are heavily laden with clusters of small, bright red berries, each cluster topped with a thick, fluffy mound of white snow. The background is a clear, bright blue sky, and the overall scene is framed by a delicate, frosty border. The text is overlaid on this scene in a stylized, arched font with a yellow outline and a blue shadow.
