The River Thames
starts in the Cotswold hills in England and flows
eastwards for 338
km.

It flows through London, the capital city, and finally pours into the North Sea.

At the beginning the water is fresh, but the last part of the Thames is sea
water.

The Thames
in London is very famous
of course.

You can travel by boat
along the river and see the famous
London
sights.

like Tower Bridge, Big Ben and the London Eye.

It is a great way to see London quickly!

Lots of people
have holidays
near the Thames
or on the Thames
- and never go
near London!

The 'young'
Thames flows through very beautiful places and you can go

fishing, swimming or boating.

There are pictures
and stories of people skating on the Thames in London in the winter

but these days the Thames never freezes.

It is a great place to have fun.
