It was the first of September, the start of the school year. On this day, Jack really did not want to go to school. But when he saw his friends, he forgot about everything. During school holidays, Jack played with his friends. They ran and did not see people and objects around.

Suddenly Jack ran up the stairs and fell off it. He broke his leg. Jack called his friends for help. They ran away, but the PE teacher, Mr. Shaw, quickly approached him. He helped Jack stand up and took him to the medical room. But the nurse was not there. So Mr. Shaw called an ambulance.

The ambulance arrived very quickly. Jack and the teacher went to the hospital. There the doctor put a plaster cast on the boy. An hour later the doctor sent Jack home. The father picked Jack up and took home.

Jack did not go to school for the next two weeks. Friends visited him and brought him fruit. A broken leg did not stop Jack being happy because he did not go to school.

The tallest building in the world today is the Burj Khalifa, a skyscraper in Dubai. Translated from Arabic, the name means "Tower of the Khalifa". On the top floor of the skyscraper, a stunning bird's-eye view of the city opens from the observation deck. Near Burj Khalifa there is a musical fountain, recognized by contemporaries as the most powerful. The height of its jet reaches 150 meters. The second highest skyscraper after Burj Khalifa is considered to be Abraj Al-Bait. This is a whole complex of high-rise buildings built in Mecca, Saudi Arabia. On the tallest building, the Royal Tower, there is a clock with a giant dial. The third highest skyscraper is Taiwan (China). This skyscraper has the fastest elevators in the world, moving at the speed of a car.

And now I want to tell you about Disneyland. Disneyland is a park that was opened in the city of Anaheim in the U.S. state of California. Its creator was W. Disney who was an animator, film director and producer. He dreamed of an amusement park in which the world of cartoons and fairy tales would be recreated, interesting for both children and adults. Disneyland attractions amaze with their diversity! You can get to any of them by narrow-gauge railway. Ancient and modern trains run along it, as well as near the castle you can see the monument of W. Disney. That's all I wanted to tell you. See you soon!!!

Absent-minded Lisa

A girl named Lisa lived in Washington. She was 10 years old. She had red hair and brown eyes. Lisa was very obedient, but clumsy and scruffy. She lived with Daddy Mark. Mom lived separately from them, in another city. Mark devoted little time to Lisa, because he was constantly at work.

Lizzy was a curious child. She also loved to cook. The hobby was dangerous. Once Lisa decided only to fry the nuggets.

When she put a frying pan on the stove, her dad called her and said: "Lisa, be kind, buy bread and milk in the store."

"Okay, dad".

"Don't forget to clean up the apartment and do your homework!"

"Of course," - said Lisa and was about to go to the nearest supermarket.

Leaving the house, Lisa immediately felt a strange smell, but did not pay attention to it. She went to the store, bought the necessary groceries and, getting closer and closer to the house, she saw that her home was engulfed with smoke and fire!

In tears, Lisa was looking for Mark and asking for help.

"Dad! I beg you, come soon, I beg you!!!"

"Lord, Lisa, what happened, why are you crying?"

"Our house is on fire!"

"Calm down, I'll call the firemen now, go to your grandmother, she's not far from here. I'll pick you up later and everything will be fine!"

"Okay, dad, but I'm still scared ..."

The story ended happily and well. Lisa realized her mistake and continued to try to be more careful. Mark began to pay more attention to Lisa and more often spent time with his daughter.

The main idea – do not be absent-minded, like Lisa, and do not start fires, please.

THE FOOD IS DIFFERENT FOR EVERYONE

The food is different for everyone. Cats eat their Whiskas and meat. Hamsters and mice eat the seeds. Dogs eat meat and their food. Cows eat the grass. Humans eat ALL.

Humans eat meat, vegetables, seeds, BATS, rats and more all too. We eat almost all food. Some people eat iron and wood.

And everyone has different tastes. Alone like the meat, others eat sugar, being vegetarians. Only plants eat sun energy instead of food. But we are not plants.

My favorite food is dumplings, rolls and sweets. But Big Tasty (burger) i like the best. I'm ready to eat Big Tasty all the week (or two).

All alive organisms eat. But the food is different for everyone.

Nuclear War Survivor Diary

Day 1

I woke up in a bunker, I was very interested in what was outside, but I did not go because of the radiation. Even in the bunker there are 14 microroentgens per hour, I do not know if it is fatal or not, but with a rate of 10 microroentgens, it seems to me that nothing will happen.

Day 6

I didn't wash for 6 days because I am saving water, I would have coal and I could make a charcoal filter.

Day 37

The bunker smells terribly, but I get used to it and it seems that soon I will go to the surface for food and water and I need to find an air freshener.

Day 42

I decided to go to the surface and took an axe and a map just in case. I went to the underground to the mall. I think the food and water remained intact.

Day 45

I return to the bunker with a bunch of poison and water, I think 60 days will be enough at my expense. I went to the bunker and decided to install a water filter. Everything, the class he works.

Day 59

The so-called STALKER came to me and asked for some water. I gave them 2 bottles of water and they gave me a pistol and 2 clips that they found at the police station.

Day 67

I wanted to make a bed, but there was the contaminated land all around. I decided to go to the garden store marked on the map and fetch more food and water for one.

Day 69

I found a gas mask, jackpot, and 10 liters of drinkable water more. I also saw the bunker. I need to go and see if anyone is there.

Day 71

I went to that bunker and it turned out that there was no one there. But there I took a hunting rifle, 17 cartridges for a gun, 4 liters of drinkable water, 7 canned tomatoes and 6 canned beef stew.

Day 72

I returned home and the strangest thing was that I saw some kind of mutants. It's getting dangerous, it's not in vain that I got so much food and water.

Day 74

Someone was walking on the roof of the bunker. I was scared. It was in vain because it was a survivor who asked to shelter him. I thought about it and did not refuse the neighborhood. His name is Gregory. He brought with himself 10 liters of water and a lot of beef stew. Like 27 or 24 cans. Yes, 27 cans.

Day 78

Now it's much more fun. In the evening we discussed the plan for which route it would be necessary to search the city. We recalculated the inventory. And they even calculated how long this will be enough for us. And by the way, I did find an air freshener.

Day 100

Even 100 days have passed since the war. And today we crawl out.

Day 108

We returned. The sky was not visible in the street. Probably in 400 days it will be very dark. For everyone, I took more batteries and two flashlights.

Day 141

I haven't written here for a long time. But it seems to me that my claustrophobia is starting to develop. I have to walk and for one I will bring food and water. In the end, I went alone.

Day 145

I came back covered in blood and immediately lay down on the bed. I told Grisha everything.

In the area of the military base, there was a shootout between looters and stalkers. I sided with the stalkers and fired back to the end.

With serious injuries, I reached the bunker.

Day 147

Grisha writes that Maxim died of blood loss on September 17 at the age of 28.

Diary of a survivor of the Chernobyl explosion

My name is Kostya. I decided to keep this diary.

Day 1.

There was some kind of race in the program today. Scientists don't seem to say anything unusual. Everyone says that everything will be fine next.

Day 2.

There was a jump again today. Already scientists say that it will get even worse. Everyone keeps saying the same thing

Day 3.

It's starting to get worse and worse. They're starting to evacuate us, and I'm left alone.

Day 4

The scientists themselves began to evacuate. There will be an explosion soon.

Day 5.

I was able to survive the explosion. It turns out the explosion was radiation. All the greenery has disappeared, and the animals have mutated. All things were now heavily irradiated with radiation.

Day 40.

It turns out there are people besides me. There are about 2 of them. One is called Grisha, the other Sasha.

Day 65.

We found huge deposits of food in a bunker near the city hall. They were not radiation. we have enough of them for about 5-6 years.

Day 90.

We went around all the houses and we found ammunition in the police. It's a good thing I'm not alone here, otherwise I'd go crazy.

Day 150.

It turns out the food is leaving so quickly. I didn't think about it.

Day 214.

Guards were placed at the borders. Now people will come on excursions.

Day 300.

I think I got infected from radiation. I'm getting worse and worse.

Day 350.

Kostya died, Sasha writes. He asked me to keep the diary further.

Day 400.

We're running out of food, there's about 20 days left.

Day 420.

There was no food left for anyone. We have already gone to the entrance to our city. There were people there. They were scared of us because we were not well-groomed. We explained everything to them and they helped us.

Overnight at Sarah

Leila and Selena gathered for the night with Sarah. Sarah had a big house. They met on Saturday afternoon at the mall.

They stayed in the mall until closing time. They bought a lot of jewelry and clothes there.

Then they came to Sarah's house. They ordered pizza. The courier was silent and had a black hand. The girls paid no attention to this. They watched horror and ate pizza. The apartment in the horror movie looked like Leila's.

It's time to sleep. Sarah placed her friends on the ground floor in different rooms. Everyone fell asleep. Someone knocked on Leila's door at 2 o'clock at night. Leila thought it was one of her friends. She opened the door. A flying head from a horror movie and a courier with a black hand – that's who it was. The same company only with Leila came to Selena.

Sarah was looking for friends for a long time: in the morning and all Sunday. She didn't find them. They came to her themselves on the night of Sunday to Monday.

How I was at the Museum of World War II History

We went there with our family on August 1. The road was not easy – 6 hours in traffic.

When we got there, the feeling was amazing. Everything was so realistic.

The museum is made with items found in excavations. Big screens. Decorations. And the history of everyone who fought in the war. The speeches of the guide. What I liked the best is the floor under which there are fragments of everything. We were walking around there for three hours. There is a temple outside the museum, an orchestra that sings and a shooting gallery with real guns. Towards the end we went to the statue of the Mother at which we put candles.

It was evening when we planned to walk around Red Square, but we did not have time because of traffic jams. We checked into a hotel. We went to a cafe. We went to bed. It was the best day of my life. I advise you to visit the temple, it is worth it.

Puppy Max, or Choose me!

Molly opened the gate and held it for her parents, who seemed to be too slow and far behind her .

“It's him!” – The girl shouted. “Forty seconds”.

Screeching and yapping could be heard from inside, and she was impatient to get into the house as soon as possible.

Finally, her parents caught up with her, and Dad smiled :

“Well, ring the doorbell!”

Molly obeyed, and there was a ring in the house, followed by loud barking, the patter of paws and the gnashing of claws. Suddenly someone leaned on the door, the girl jumped from surprise.

“Jackson, step back! How can I open the door for them if you're blocking the door?” A woman's voice sounded.

She wasn't angry – rather she was trying not to laugh. “And you all go there too!”

Now not only the low barking of a large dog could be heard, but also the screeching of many excited puppies...
